Understanding the unique instructional needs of English learners.

What are the instructional needs of English learners? An extensive review and summary of research by Francis et al. (2006) on instruction and academic interventions for EL students identified the following six evidence-based instructional strategies that can be effective in helping ELs develop basic reading and comprehension skills:

1. Explicit Instruction
2. Multisensory Instruction
3. Direct Teaching
4. Vocabulary Instruction
5. Schema Building
6. Comprehension Strategies

In her book, English learners academic literacy and thinking learning in the challenge zone, Pauline Gibbons argues for a rigorous, challenging, and well-supported curriculum for English language learners. She proposes teachers create this high challenge high support classroom by focusing on intellectual quality that guides students to construct knowledge, not reproduce it.
